EUROPEAN IMMIGRATION

TO THE

CANADAS & WESTERN STATES!

—BY—

Train & Co's Line.

ENOCH TRAIN & CO., Proprietors of the Boston and Liverpool Line of Packets, hereby give notice that they have made extensive arrangements with the Western Rail Road Corporations, in connection with the Rail Roads in the Western States, and Steamboats on the Lakes, for the forwarding of pre-paid passengers from Boston to the Canadas and Western States; and are now selling at their office in Boston, and at their authorized agencies, pre paid certificates of passage as follows:

From Liverpool to Boston,

"	Albany, N. Y.,	$18 00
"	Buffalo, "	18 00
"	Kingston, C. W.	22 00
"	Columbus, O.,	22 50
"	Montreal, C. E.,	24 00
"	Toronto, C. W.	24 00
"	Hamilton, "	23 00
"	Cleveland, O.,	23 50
"	Sandusky, O.	23 50
"	Dunkirk, N. Y.,	22 00
"	Toledo, O.,	23 50
"	Detroit, Mich.,	24 00
"	Cincinnati, O.,	24 00
"	Chicago, Ill.,	25 00
"	St. Louis, Mo.,	28 50
"	Milwaukee, Wis.,	26 00

Children under twelve years of age at the time of embarkation, five dollars less than the above; and infants under twelve months thirteen dollars less than the above named prices, to Boston or Albany, and other places in proportion; but we will not issue a pre-paid certificate for children under twelve years of age, unless accompanied by a passenger over twelve years, who must be paid for at the same time and on the same certificate.

The above prices embrace a steerage passage from Liverpool to Boston, by any of our Splendid Line of Packets; provisions at sea according to the undermentioned dietary scale; doctor's attendance and medicine on board when required; port charges at Boston, and all expenses of transportation of passengers and baggage from the ship at Boston, to the destination agreed upon.

In addition to any provisions which the passengers may themselves bring, the following quantities, at least, of water and provisions will be supplied to each steerage passenger of twelve years of age and over, every week during the passage, commencing on the day of sailing, and at least three quarts of water per day:

Two oz. of Tea; 8 oz. of Sugar; 6 lbs. of Oatmeal; 2½ lbs navy bread; 1 lb. wheat flour; 2 lbs rice.

Children under twelve years of age (not including infants,) are furnished with six pounds of bread stuffs per week, the usual allowance of water, and half allowance of Tea and Sugar.

‡As soon as our Liverpool House informs us per steamer of the names of pre-paid passengers embarked, we publish their names in the Boston Pilot, and also notify each purchaser of pre-paid certificates, either directly or through our agents.

On the arrival of any of our ships in the outer harbor, we immediately dispatch an agent on board, to give pre-paid passengers the necessary instructions regarding their route westward.

Bedding and utensils for eating and drinking, must be provided by passengers; and those going to the Canadas, or Western States, must furnish their own provisions from Boston.

TRAIN & CO., of Boston, Inform those who take an interest in the welfare of Immigrants, that as owners of the LINE OF LIVERPOOL and BOSTON PACKETS, they have determined that their Immigration business shall be conducted in their own name, on their own responsibility, and by themselves or their immediate servants. In calling public attention to the splendid Fleet of the Ships which comprise our Boston Line of Packets, we believe that its general reputation as the first of American Lines is sufficiently well known and established. The Thousands of Letters which have been sent by American Immigrants to their friends in every part of Europe, have borne ample testimony to the rapid and unchecked passages made by these Ships, and to the superior Health, Comfort and Safety which their Pass

GOOD PRICE FOR MILWAUKEE FLOUR.—The handsome price of $5.00 per barrel was paid yesterday for 1900 bbls. of "Kilbourn Mills" extra Flour. It was purchased for the Boston market, and the same price offered for more. This flour was made out of good Wisconsin winter wheat by Col. SAWYER, and cannot be beat, east or west.

Milwaukee & Watertown Rail Road.

It will be seen by an article from the Watertown Register which we publish elsewhere, that the depot grounds have been located at Watertown, and that this very important road is likely to be pushed forward rapidly, and completed to Watertown at an early day in the coming fall.—That will be a good time for all of us when we can, in a couple of hours, run out to Watertown all the way by rail. Speed the day!

Our Banks and their Securities.

In answer to the call of the Appleton Crescent, a Democratic paper, the Madison Argus furnishes the following list of State Stocks deposited with the Comptroller, by the different Banks of our State, as security for their issues:

From the report of the Bank Comptroller, published Jan. 31st, 1854, we find that the following stocks were then deposited with him, as the basis of the circulation of all the Banks in the State.—This is the recapitulation; for particulars, the report, which is too lengthy for publication, may be consulted:

Wisconsin State Stock, 8 per c.,	$10,000 00
" " 7 "	50,000 00
		$60,000 00
Georgia State Stock, 6 per cent,		27,000 00
Missouri State stock, 6 per cent,		158,000 00
Tennessee State Stock, 6 per cent,		82,000 00
Virginia State Stock, 6 per cent,		264,000 00
Kentucky State Stock, 6 per cent		67,000 00
		$668,000 00

Since that time, the several Banks have deposited the amount and description of stocks as follows, which we have taken from the Comptroller's books, and which is the sum total of deposits since the date of his report:

Date.	Banks.	Stocks.	Am't.
1854
Feb. 3,	Jefferson Co. Bank,	Virginia 6's	$1,000 00
Apr. 7,	Oshkosh City Bank,	N. Carolina 6's	25,000 00

"	do	Kentucky 6's	3,000 00
			$176,000 00

The law requires the publication of such a statement as the foregoing twice in each year. It is an abstract of the Bank Comptroller's report, and is made under his oath of office. He can take no stocks except under the most stringent regulation; the law cannot be so construed as to permit of it.—Under our banking law there can be but little fear of dishonesty in that part of the State Government.

The Argus furnishes this information, as it was under protest, and after a long preface, abusive of the papers which have presumed to call for it: The Wisconsin, a tender of the State Administration, takes up the same tune and talks about this call for facts as an "onslaught upon a Banking system" and a "slur" upon the Comptroller, 'simply because he did not happen to be one of their (our) own party." When it is remembered that this "onslaught" and "slur" originated with democratic papers, the cool effrontery of this misrepresentation will be readily appreciated.

METROPOLITAN BANK, WASHINGTON D. C. The appearance in this State of bills on the above named Bank has started a discussion as to the character of the Institution and of its issues. In reply to an inquiry from Mr. H. S. BAIRD, of Green Bay, our Representative in Congress, the Hon. DANIEL WELLS, Jr., transmits letters from two eminent Banking Houses in Washington (SELDEN, WITHERS & Co., and RIGGS & Co.) and an article from the National Intelligencer, all three concurring in the statement, that there is no such Bank as the Metropolitan Bank of Washington, doing business in that city, nor are its notes redeemable, or current there.

SHORTENING THE ROUTE.—By the Atlantic and Mississippi R. R. the distance from Cleveland to St. Louis is 515 miles. By way of Toledo, the distance between the same cities is 586 miles.—By way of Chicago, it is 639 miles. By way of Cincinnati is 596 miles. So that the route by Indianapolis and Terre Haute is the shortest of all.

SHEBOYGAN HARBOR.—The Sheboygan Secretary contradicts the statements of our correspondent as to the condition of the works for the improvement of Sheboygan Harbor, and says:

No portion of the piers have given way or removed from their places; on the contrary, the Harbor is in excellent order, having eight feet of water in the channel. All the difficulty there is, having any connection with the Harbor, arises from the improper construction of the pile docking on the river, which was altogether a distinct work from the construction of the Harbor.

THE HURRICANE.—From Milwaukee to New York the gale of last week did its utmost in destroying life and property. In Milwaukee, the schooner Twin Rivers went ashore a total wreck, with the loss of three lives. Some damage was sustained by the piers, and many vessels injured while 'making port.'—Waukegan Gazette, May 6.

This is a great mistake. No lives were lost by the Twin Brothers going ashore, and the vessel herself, so far from being a "total wreck," will be safely and cheaply got off. Nor were any vessels injured "while making port" here, during the hurricane. On the contrary, all that sought our harbor, got in safely, or rode out the gale at anchor in our well-sheltered bay. When the Straight Cut is completed, Milwaukee Harbor will be the safest, most capacious, and most accessible of any on the Lake.

RHODE ISLAND.—The General Assembly of Rhode Island convened at Newport on the 2nd inst., and HENRY G. CRANSTON was elected Speaker of the House, and W. W. HOPPIN duly inaugurated as Governor. The following officers—all whigs—were afterwards chosen by the two Houses in joint ballot:

John J. Reynolds, Lieutenant Governor; Wm. R. Watson, Secretary of State; Christopher Robinson, Attorney General; Samuel R. Vernon, State Treasurer.

GROWTH OF RIPON.—Four years ago the editor of the Ripon Herald says that he was one of about a dozen inhabitants of that town, who were struggling to give it a start in life. Now Ripon has a population of 1200—having doubled in one year—and no less than 27 buildings were commenced in the town during the month of April, last past.

WARNING TO CARELESS DRIVERS.—On Monday, the jury in a case tried in the New York Supreme Court, in behalf of Irene Winchell, a girl of 12 years, who was run over, in the Fourth avenue in that city, by a horse and light wagon, driven by Benjamin Snow, a young man from Boston, brought in a sealed verdict for $4,000 damages. It is said that Snow, at the time of the accident, was driving at the rate of seven miles an hour, and the injuries of the girl were severe.

Correspondence of the Sentinel.

Men and Things in Gotham—No. 13.

NEW YORK, May 30, 1854.

Messrs. Editors:

The merry month of May with all its buds and flowers has come at last, and the soft breathing south wind, it is to be hoped, will neutralize the effects of ice bergs and give us the seasons in their course, with the features which probably belong to them. For variety and viciousness the present Spring has been without a parallel; the foul and fair so indiscriminately mixed up as to give one the impression that he was escaping the sequaintance, thro' some mighty motive power, of all the zones at once. Balmy airs and warbling spring birds at one moment, and the next snow drifts of formidable character even from an arctic point of view, and the trembling little twitterers of the parks and gardens tapping at your window panes, hopping bewildered on the steps, fences, and shrubbery, and gladly accepting of invitations to walk in, held out quite extensively by the juvenile population of the City, and too often with malicious intentions towards their feathered guests.

The eccentricities of nature have recently terminated in a tempest of wind and rain, which, coming up at 5 minutes notice, lasted without intermission for more than 60 hours, and in its course did an incredible amount of damage to life and property far and wide; houses unroofed, banks swept away accompanied, in Brooklyn with loss of life, dams demolished, and rail road communications with the City destroyed for a time. Great excitement was occasioned by the news of a disastrous accident to the Croton dam, and the prospect was that for weeks there would not be enough water at hand to keep the face of the public decently clean; later accounts however, are more favorable and free users of Croton breathe again.

In the harbor, at the breaking of the storm, the scene was inexpressibly grand. It came up as by the wand of the enchanter. Dark masses of clouds rolled up from the horizon and soon obscured the sky in lowering sulphurous clouds, thro' which the yellow light of the Sun shone dimless, coloring with a peculiar glare both land and water, the latter lashed into fury by the strength of the tempest. Then the rocking ships, and the screaming and rattling of their shrouds, the capsizing of the "Ericsson," and various smaller craft in the bay, the deluge of rain and hail, altogether made the afternoon a most grand and fearful one.

Gotham appears at present in a most attractive light, the streets, especially in the finer parts of the City, are delightfully clean, the swelling buds in the parks are breaking out into leaves of the tenderest green, private gardens (and there are some little gems in that way up town) are undergoing a thorough renovation and beautifying, planting, transplanting, and pruning is the order of the day. The borders of box look spruce to a fault, and one loiters viewing with envious eye the open windows of princely conservatories, and the rare plants outside blooming with exotic loveliness, beside the springing flowers of a hardier growth in many a choice garden bed around. How beautiful is spring, how full of hope, how bright the future looks after the winter's death, how bountiful is nature at her birth, and what a fair world this is we live in, after all!

The late fire in Broadway, from the awful loss of life attending it, has been an absorbing topic here. The whole affair is undergoing the strictest investigation, and whatever light can be thrown on the subject will soon be given to the public and if blame there is, it will rest on the shoulders of the guilty. The crowd of firemen and spectators both in New York and Brooklyn on Sunday was immense; the day was a lowering one, tho' without rain; the march was a still and solemn one, unrelieved even by occasional bursts of funeral music, tho' the heavy booming of the City Hall bell and the church bells generally was music fit for a fireman's funeral.

To night Paul Julien generously gives his last concert in the country for the benefit of the sufferers by the calamity in Broadway. Rather a startling fact has been developed during the sitting of the Jury for the investigation of the late fire. It appears that several of the bodies found, were clothed in garments belonging to Mr. Jennings. This is sufficient to prove that great corruption has crept into the ranks of the New York fire Department. How many fires are caused by its runners for the sake of plunder, and how extensively plundering of private property has been carried on, is of course a mystery; but the fact is one that demands the attention of every good citizen and the only hope of safety and only remedy at hand in a City of the size of New York is a thoroughly-regulated and paid fire brigade, and the tide of popular feeling is now running strong in that channel.

The consolidation act has passed, which makes one city of Brooklyn, Williamsburg, &c., and gives to the former the third rank among American cities. Her position in this respect will continue but a few years, in all probability, as things now look very favorable for a speedy annexation to N. Y.

The venerable Dr. Cox, for many years a most useful and beloved minister in Brooklyn, is about to leave for his new home at Owasco, and delivered recently his farewell discourse to those who have sat so long under his preaching. The occasion was a most affecting and imposing one, yet those who are familiar with the learned Dr.'s peculiarities, must have smiled when he informed the congregation that he had named the place where he intended to pass the evening of his days, "Vesper Cliff," his former Brooklyn residence, he dignified with the appellation of "Resurban."

Quite a new project has been most successfully started by Brady the Daguerrean Artist, by introducing a cheap department into his establishment, to meet the competition from the 2 shilling artists, who now hang out their shingles from every block. So now, for $1, or 50 cts., you can obtain a likeness, superior in all respects to those taken by the ill informed in the art elsewhere.—Mr. B. has not only advanced his own interest by the step, but actually conferred a favor on the public.

To-morrow the Crystal Palace is to be resuscitationized with a great flourish of trumpets, and tho' there is nothing more than there was months ago to see, yet a little noise is a great thing in Gotham, and there will without doubt be a crowd to-morrow, and very respectable attendance hereafter. The ceremonies, if carried out, will be attractive, and the admission has been reduced to 25 cts., at all times.

Jullien commences his farewell concerts here in a few days. Niblo's will open in about 10 days with a very strong French Company, including some of the Ravel's, which has just arrived. The new Metropolitan Hall, on the site of the old one, is making rapid advances towards completion. It is said that there, Mario and Grisi are to make their debut in September. The Mercantile Library Association, are moving with all haste their literary wealth to its new home in Astor Place, the late opera house improved at a large outlay for this purpose.

The New York Cricket Club had their opening day at Hoboken last week. The ground is beautifully located, and well adapted for cricket purposes. The gathering was not large, though it included most of their crack players, viz: Sams, Cuyp, Marsh, Sharp, Fletcher, &c. I watched their play with much interest, and, allowing for a six month's recess, thought it good—the bowling particularly fine, from the first three parties above named, though not more dangerous than Johnson's, the batting and fielding not better than that of a well picked western 11. Each of the distinguished gentlemen above mentioned had the honor of endeavoring to level the stumps of your humble correspondent. You will without doubt, get a challenge from them, which I hope you will accept. Play their best 11, barring one round arm bowler, and it will be "nip and tuck."

Veto of the Indigent Insane Bill.

DEBATE FOLLOWING ITS ANNOUNCEMENT IN THE U. S. SENATE, MAY 3.

The President occupies a space of about two solid columns of type in giving his reason for vetoing the bill granting 10,000,000 acres of land to the states for the support of the Indigent Insane. They are briefly summed up in the following abstract:

He commences by an assurance that nothing but a desire to "adhere strictly to the terms and purposes of the Federal compact" induces him to veto the bill.

Then follows an abstract of the bill, showing the proportion of the States, and the setting apart of the proceeds of the lands as a principal, the interest of which is to be appropriated for the support of the insane.

The President proceeds to argue that if Congress can thus provide for poor insane persons outside of the District of Columbia, it can also be properly called upon to assume the maintenance of any and all other poor persons, and hence he considers that the signing of this bill would be a very dangerous precedent. He occupies a great deal of space in enforcing his views of the limitations of Federal power, adopting those of the strict "constructionists" as his own. Briefly summed up, his interpretation of the clause in the 8th Section of the Constitution, giving power to Congress to "pay debts and provide for the common defence and general welfare," is this:

I take the received and just construction of that article to be as if written, to lay, and collect taxes, duties, imposts, and excises, in order to pay the debts, and in order to provide for the common defence and general welfare. It is not a substantive general power to provide for the welfare of the United States, but is a limitation of the grant of power to raise money by taxes, duties and imposts.

He thinks that the good done to suffering humanity by the passage of this bill would not compensate for its inroads upon the Constitution.—He quotes from Madison and Jackson to sustain his views.

He objects to the bill as a violation of the terms under which the cession of lands by Virginia was made, those lands being given to be held as a common fund for the benefit of all the states, old and new. Also that the bill violates the pledge of public faith, made by the act of Jan. 23, 1847, which pledges the revenues of the public lands for the redemption of public stocks. He thinks, nevertheless, that portions of the public domain may be occasionally disposed of, for local objects, where such disposal will enhance the value of the remaining lands. In this view only he thinks that the cession of the 16th Sections for school purposes, and that of the Swamp lands, can be justified. He finds but two cases which seem to be precedents for this bill.

The first is the act of March 3, 1810, granting a township of land to the Connecticut Asylum for the education of the Deaf and Dumb. The second, that of April 5, 1826, making a similar grant of land to the Kentucky Asylum for teaching the Deaf and the Dumb.

These cases he regards rather as warnings than as examples, and argues that both were instances of improper use of the public domain.

The above are the points raised by the President in his veto. It is not a little remarkable that he does not make the slightest allusion to the grants made to railroads at various times of late. Such was not the case with the Senators, for an interesting debate sprung up immediately, a sketch of which we give below:

Mr. Foot moved that the veto be entered on the journal, printed, and laid on the table. Agreed.

Mr. Hunter moved that 10,000 additional copies be printed.

Mr. Toombs hoped the motion would be adopted.

Mr. Brown said it was immaterial to him whether 2,000 or 20,000 were printed. But while the message was going forth to the people it was but just to those who had voted for the bill that some of their views should also go out. The bill was not a new one to the country. It was discussed in '51 and passed the House by a large majority—subsequently a like bill passed the Senate by a majority of two to one. Among those voting for it were Mr. Borland and Mr. Soule who were regarded as strict constructionists, and were gentlemen who had in a special manner received favor of the President by appointments to foreign missions. At this session the bill passed the House by a large majority, nearly two to one, and five of the votes of the members who were strict constructionists, good Democrats, and who never faltered in supporting and defending the Constitution. It passed the Senate by a vote of twenty to twelve. The President was doubtless right in refusing to sign a bill to which he had constitutional objections; but it was also right that those who had voted for the bill should state their reasons for their course, and the country ought to hear and weigh the considerations and the arguments on both sides, before coming to a judgment. Though not prepared to argue a State paper like this, yet many arguments made by the President he had heard before, and they were not new to him. He then referred to the many grants by congress for school purposes, colleges, universities, railroads, canals, etc., etc., and contended that all these were as much unconstitutional as the present bill, if the ground assumed by the President was correct.

Mr. Foot, of Vermont followed in vindication of the bill. He referred at length to bills, amounting to over a hundred, similar in their principles to this one, and he regarded it as strange that the first one vetoed should be the very first one which gave lands to the States in just proportion. He considered the power of Congress to dispose of the public lands so clear that no man outside of a Lunatic Asylum could find difficulty in interpreting it.

Mr. HUNTER defended the veto, and gave expression to his thanks to the President for sending it in. He was glad that we are now to have a contest on the principle whether the public lands are to be given away, or are to be held for the common benefit of the whole nation.

Mr. Toombs desired to return his thanks to the President for vetoing this measure. This action of the President held out some hope that the reckless and extravagant course lately pursued with respect to the public lands would be checked, and that hereafter we may expect that the administration of the public lands will be put on the same solid constitutional principle.

Mr. Butler said that he knew of no bill of any degree of importance which had passed the Senate with less consideration of debate than this one now returned by the President. He approved of the veto.

Mr. Dixon followed said he could see no constitutional objections to this bill.

Mr. Bell desired the Senator who upheld this message, and who rejoiced in the hope that the administration of public lands was hereafter to be placed on the same sound constitutional principle, to state and explain where that principle differed from the policy heretofore pursued.—He saw nothing in this bill differing in principle from the many acts making grants of lands for various objects. So great had been the amount of land granted by Congress, that the revenue from it has but barely paid its original cost, and the expenses of survey, &c., &c.

Mr. Douglas defended the grants made to Western States for railroad purposes, showing that by grants to the Illinois road land was now sold by the United States for two fifty per acre, which for fifty years had been in market and unsalable at any price. The Western men asked for no grants of land for their State for any purposes which did not come within the principle recognized by the message on the table. He argued against the bill. It was to place the General Government in the situation of taking care of one class of indigent persons in the States, and if adopted would lead to many encroachments upon State authority.

Mr. Jones, (Tenn.)—Are you not in favor of giving the lands to the landless by the homestead bill?

Mr. Douglas—I do no wish to be drawn from an argument against one bill, by a question as to how I shall vote on another.

Mr. Jones—The Senator maintains that it is unconstitutional to give lands to the insane.—How then can he support a bill giving lands to those who are not insane?

Mr. Douglas—When that bill comes up I will be prepared and willing to express myself upon it. If I can show that it comes within the principle recognized by this message, I will vote for it. If it does not, I will vote against it. I choose not to be diverted from my argument against one bill, just too, at a point where I was treading upon the gentleman's corns, by questions as to my opinions on other measures.

Mr. Jones—I can assure the Senator that I have no corns that he can tread upon. I asked him a question, and he need not get out of humor about it. I am a friend of this bill, and I am with the Senator on the Homestead bill. What I desired to know was how he could object to this bill, because unconstitutional, and support the other. I was afraid he would leave us.

Mr. Douglas—If the Senator is with me upon the Homestead bill, he knows how I stand upon it, and his question is unnecessary. When that bill comes up, I will give him argument in support of it, which will clearly show that it is quite a different measure from the one before the Senate. He then further argued the inexpediency and unconstitutionality of the bill, taking the same view as set forth in the message.

Mr. Weller said the whole debate was out of order. The merits of the bill were not before the Senate until it came up for reconsideration. No one had read the message. Their only knowledge of it was derived from imperfectly hearing it read at the desk, and he respectfully suggested that even Senators could consider, discuss, and act upon a message better after knowing something about it than they could before. He hoped a day would be fixed for the bill and the debate postponed.

Mr. Brown said that he had intended to have put the same question to the Senator from Illinois as was put by Mr. Jones, but not having been treated very courteously on putting one question, he had not done so. The Senator had declined answering the question, and the many friends of the Senator, throughout the country, would wait with painful anxiety to know and hear the distinction upon which the Senator would vote lands for the benefit of sane men and not vote lands for insane men.

Mr. Douglas said he had never treated the Senator with discourtesy, but he had objected when he was arguing for one bill to being drawn off from it by questions as to other measures. He had avowed he was friendly to the Homestead bill.

Mr. Brown—But the country will not be satisfied with the Senator's saying he is in favor of giving lands to sane men, and opposed to giving them to insane men. Though not the guardian of the Senator's fame or reputation, yet as a friend, I may say his friends every where will ask for an explanation of the difficulty. Though I entertain no such idea myself, still there may be some men in the country who will, in consequence of the refusal of the Senator to state his distinction, so construe his conduct as to suppose it is because sane men can vote and insane men cannot.

Mr. Douglas—I have no fear that any honest man in the country will ever place such a construction upon my course. I have no fear that any man would draw such a conclusion if it had not been suggested now. Why does the Senator make a suggestion so degrading to me and then disown any belief in it personally? I fear no construction which may be placed upon any measure here by any honest man. No man who is honest himself will rashly impute or suspect dishonor in another.

Mr. Brown—When I say anything I mean what I say. I did believe, and do yet believe, that improper construction will be placed upon the Senator's refusal to answer the question.

Mr. Douglass—What question?

Mr. Brown—Whether you were in favor of the Homestead bill.

Mr. Douglass—Did you not say just now you would not ask the question, because I treated you discourteously?

Mr. Brown—You refused to answer the questions when put to you by the Senator from Tennessee.

Mr. Douglass—I did so for the reason I have stated, that I did not consider it fair, just as I was arguing a particular point, that I should be called off by questions on remote measures, having no reference to the question under consideration. Every man in the Senate knew I was in favor of the Homestead bill. The Senator from Tennessee knew it. In a speech sometime since I openly avowed it.

Mr. Brown—What I mean to say is, that when the Senator states he is in favor of granting the public lands to all sane men who will take it, and at the same time declares a bill granting land to insane men to be unconstitutional, the people of the country will look with anxiety for his explanation of the distinction between the measures. It the Senator refuses to explain the distinction now, some people will be kind enough to draw conclusions not very flattering to the Senator.

Mr. Bayard took the floor.

Mr. Douglas appealed to him to yield it.

Mr. Bayard—I refuse to yield it. These personal altercations are not in order. This whole debate is out of order. The motion is before the Senate to print the message—not the merits of the bill to be discussed. Let the message be printed. Do not treat the President with disrespect by refusing to print his message. Are gentlemen afraid to let the message go out to the country. He then congratulated the country on the hope of a return of some sound policy with respect to the public lands.

Mr. Foot—When I put the question to the Senator from Illinois, I knew he was for the Homestead bill. I am for it, and am also for this bill; and I intended, by putting that question, to stop the argument he was making by knocking it on the head with the Homestead. [Laughter.]

Mr. Douglas—I knew your object, and for that reason I defeated it by not allowing myself to be drawn off by any such course.

Mr. Jones—The Senator is the last man who should complain of such a proceeding. Why, Sir, we have all seen him do the same thing over fifty times, and I now tell him that I intend to hit him that way every time I can. [Loud laughter.]

Mr. Douglas—I have already said I knew the object the Senator had in view, and have shown that I avoided it by not answering his question. The Senator also gave me another reason. He said he was with me on the Homestead. Now, he either knew that I was on that bill, and therefore to answer his question was unnecessary, or he chose to be with me on faith in the correctness of my judgment and my principles. [Loud laughter.] I rather think the latter. [Laughter.] I can say to the Senator that he could not do better than be with me on all questions. Let his faith continue, and he will allways be right.

Mr. Jones—The Senator is the last man to follow in faith. [Laughter.] Lord help the man who does! [Laughter.] Whoever follows the Senator in faith will require the very best works to save him. [Laughter.] I have followed the Senator through some dark places, but I am afraid we are not quite out of them yet.

Mr. Badger—It seems to be assumed as an indisputable fact by the Senator from Illinois and the Senator from Mississippi, that insane men have no vote. I desire to submit to these two Senators and to the Democratic party generally, but to these two members of that party particularly, if they really believe that insane men have no right to vote, how it is that they were ever elected to the body, or how expect to retain their seats here for another term. [Loud laughter.] In order to give time for calm reflection upon this most important question, I move the Senate adjourn. Agreed to at 4½ o'clock.

Sault St. Marie Canal.

A Correspondent of the Cleveland Plaindealer, gives the following interesting information relative to the Ship Canal at the Sault:

The entire length of the work is 5,658 feet—378 feet more than a mile. The fall of the St. Mary's is 18 feet, and the canal is to be 12 feet deep. The sides are to be inclined from the canal bottom to the slope of 1½ feet to 1, and are to be walled with stone, where there is not a natural wall, so that they will present a rock surface throughout. On canal bottom the width is 64 feet; consequently it is 100 feet wide.—There are to be two locks, each 350 feet in length, between the gates, made with walls ten feet thick at the base, and strengthened by stone buttresses on the outside 12 feet apart. The locks are of sufficient capacity to admit the largest steamers now floating upon our lakes.

At the commencement of the work there were 205,360 cubic yards of rock and earth to be taken out above water. The amount now remaining is less than one sixth of this.

The timbers required for locks, piers, caisson gate, &c., is nearly out. So the great work of the coming season is the masonry of the lock-walls, and everything is in good condition for a completion of the canal during the summer and fall.

The railroad and plank road used in the transportation of freight over the portage, crossed the canal grounds, and of course had to be taken up during the winter, as the excavation advanced. They have both been rebuilt by the canal company, bridges being thrown across the canal to accommodate them, and they will be ready for use in three or four days.

LIVELY TIMES IN OSHKOSH.—Our city has never before shown such unmistakable signs of prosperity as it does this spring. Business of all kinds is conducted on an increased scale, merchants are enlarging their stores, and citizens their dwellings. New buildings are going up all over the town, and real estate is rising rapidly in value.—Our hotels and streets are filled with strangers, and every steam boat arrival adds more or less to the population of the place. The amount of travel to, and through this city greatly exceeds that of any former season, and we have reliable authority for stating that the quantity of freight landed at our docks since the opening of navigation on Lake Winnebago, is more than double the quantity landed during the same period last year. This fact alone is conclusive proof of the continual and rapid increase of population in this section of the state.—Oshosh Courier.

A LAUNCH.—The new Steam Tow Boat, built by W. A. Knapp, will be ready for launching on Saturday next. The performance will come off (weather permitting) at 10 o'clock A. M. Mr. Knapp's friends will all be there as it is expected that none of the formalities or ceremonies usual on such occasions will be omitted.—Ib.

OUR LEAD MINES.—A scientific gentleman of our acquaintance, well acquainted with the mining business pretty generally, and with our Lead Mines, in particular, in writing to us on other business from a distant State, says: "All the examinations which I have made of mines in the Eastern States, go to convince me of the great mineral wealth of Wisconsin, Illinois and Iowa. There is nothing that I have seen, neither in coal, iron, lead or copper, that offers any such inducements for the investment of capital as do the Lead Mines of the Northwest. The mines of lead and copper east of the Alleghanies are mere patches or surface pockets in the rock, while in the Northwest is the great lead-field where mining will be done for ages.—Galena Gazette.

REFORM.

There seems to be but one general feeling among all parties throughout the State, that the last Legislature has wantonly and recklessly squandered and wasted the public money to a very large amount, by appropriations and allowances without regard to the necessities or wants of the State. There is an uptoss in all our legislatures to lose sight of one of the most important elements of sound legislation, viz: Economy and prudence in the expenditure and use of the public money. Extravagance and prosperity are antagonistical, and cannot long exist together in communities or individuals. The great body of the people of this State are disposed to the most rigid economy in conducting their private affairs, and are never disposed to throw away a dollar in useless or wasteful expenditure; and it is by this system that our farmers, laborers and business men are fast arriving to a position of comfort and independence and without which, their industry and enterprise would forever keep them in poverty and debt. But what avails the economy of the people in their private business, if a corrupt, ignorant and wasteful Legislature shall oppress them with taxes for which they get no return, and for which they can see no public or private advantage.

The people have heretofore borne their taxes with the utmost patience and submission, cheered by the thought, that a better time was at hand, and that the future would lighten up their heavy burdens, but that future has reached them only to disappoint their fond expectations, and now it comes rolling upon them an avalanche of evil, which, as a precedent, threatens to overwhelm and destroy, and they begin to see and feel their discouraging position. The enormous increase of the expenses of the State for the last few years is calculated to fill the public mind with alarm and excitement, and, unless some check is interposed, must lead to a state of exasperation bordering upon revolution.

It is of no use to parade items of figures and discourse and sophisticise over them, by comparing them with New York and Pennsylvania, and other populous and wealthy states, and then imagine our taxes are light, because they fall behind those in amount. The naked and serious truth stares us in the face from every annual tax list, that is gorged with the evidence of plunder and robbery, and which in the law that fastens upon us a state tax of six mills per dollar, and calls upon us for an aggregate of $225,000 to support the state government for one year.—Let the people, let the Democracy, ponder this subject and be prepared, when the time comes, to select such Representatives as will truly and faithfully discharge their trust.—Sheboygan Secretary, (Dem.)

The Louisville Excitement.

The Journal (Geo. D. Prentice's paper) of Tuesday has a leader, a column long, in defense of its position, from which we make the following extract:

"Five or six months ago our office was burned down, and our loss was a heavy one for us.—Within two hours after the disaster, we received a letter from R. J. Ward, condoling with us most earnestly, and placing whatever sum of money we might need at our disposal, assuring us that we should lay him under a deep obligation by accepting it, and specifying, as the only condition, that, if we did him the favor to accept it, the matter must forever remain a secret between him and us. We could not take the money, but the whole tone of Mr. Ward's letter and generosity of his offer affected us even to tears. Only two or three days afterwards we called at his house and found him in tears, utterly bowed and crushed with grief on account of his son's having shot Mr. W. H. G. Butler. There was being called the basest lies, when he could not but feel was our duty, under such circumstances, to hasten back to our office and proclaim through our columns that his son was guilty of a horrible murder, and invoke public wrath and indignation upon the crime and its perpetrator. If we had been capable of such a thing, we should have deserved to be driven from among our kind, a wanderer and an exile in the desert or the wilderness. It could no more be our duty, thus situated, to denounce Matt. F. Ward as guilty of murder, than it would have been had we borne to him the relation of a father. There are other ties than those of blood which all good men recognize; there are other relations than those of kindred which are held sacred by every heart that is anything more than a mere muscle."

The Journal in the same article denies that it ever took part with M. Ward, or tried to screen him from the due vengeance of the law. Its position was a neutral one, and left Ward to the Jury of his peers.

Truth Stranger than Fiction.

Certainly two of the most singular histories on record, are of the grandmothers of Louis Napoleon and the present Sultan of Turkey, Abdul Medjid. These two worthies, the Emperor and the Sultan, are grandsons of American Creole girls! As this seems incredible, their history will not prove uninteresting. We give it on the authority of the Pittsburg Post. These two creole girls, grandmothers, were Josephine the Empress and a Miss S——, who were born and raised in the lovely West India Isle of Martinique. They were of French origin—their fathers being planters and near neighbors. At the death of her father, Josephine went to France, and was married to M. de Beauharnais, by whom she had one son, Eugene, and a daughter, Hortense. Some time after the death of Beauharnais, Josephine was married to Napoleon Bonaparte; and became Empress of France. Her daughter, Hortense, was married to Joseph Bonaparte, then King of Holland; and the present Emperor of France is her son by that marriage. The history of Miss S. is more wildly romantic and singular. This lady quitted the Island of Martinique sometime before her friend. The vessel in carrying her to France was attacked and taken by the Algerine Corsairs, and the crew and passengers made prisoners. But this Corsair ship was, in turn, attacked and pillaged by Tunis pirates, and Miss S. was carried by them to Constantinople and offered for sale as a slave. Her extraordinary beauty and accomplishments found her a purchaser in the Sultan himself, and she soon became the chief lady of the Seraglio and Sultana of Turkey.—Mahmoud II was her son; and the present Sultan, Abdul Medjid, is the son of Mahmoud.—What a history! Can its parallel be found in any true record? The Sultana died in 1811, the Empress Josephine in 1814. Their grandsons now rule over two wide and powerful empires, and are entering, as friends and allies, upon one of the most momentous and sanguinary struggles in which Europe was ever involved. How little could it be guessed by those two lovely Creole girls that their early friendships were to result thus!

It is said that many of the relatives of this Sultana left the Island of Martinique, and settled at Constantinople, where their descendants still reside, and enjoy the favor of the Sultan. These whom Josephine elevated to power are almost numberless, and to this day their influence almost guides the destiny of France.

Distressing Accident.

A fatal casualty occurred in the Woodcock Diggings, near this town, on Wednesday, about 11 o'clock A. M., by which an estimable citizen lost his life. It appears that Mr. William Pascoe and his partner, Mr. Webster, were timbering a drift and that in wedging they drove so tight as to cause the wedge to spring back and immediately the whole mass of rock and dirt fell in, burying Mr. P. and knocking his partner out of the drift. As soon as the news could be spread a large number of miners promptly reunired to the spot and commenced digging, with the hope of extricating the unfortunate individual before life should be extinct, but owing to the unsafe situation of the diggings it was not until three o'clock in the afternoon that his lifeless remains were taken out. The position in which he was found rendered it certain that life must have been extinct in a very short time after the drift fell in. Too much praise cannot be bestowed upon the men who put forth such superhuman exertions in an endeavor to rescue Mr. P., but it was of no avail. Mr. Pascoe leaves a family and a large circle of warm friends to deplore his loss.—Platteville American.

SERIOUS AFFRAY.—We are informed that an affray took place on Thursday, near the Grand Circus, between two well known citizens, which resulted in the very serious injury of one of the combatants, who was wounded in the head by a paving stone. Jealousy is said to be the moving cause of the fight, which is not the first demonstration of the kind that has taken place between the parties.—Detroit Inquirer, Saturday.

NEW MEASURE.—An Exchange relates that a gentleman residing in one of the large towns of England, whose face rather exceeded the ordinary dimentions, was waited on by a barber every day for 21 years, without coming to a settlement.—The barber, thinking it "about time to settle," presented his bill, in which he charged a penny a day—amounting in all to £31 18s 9d. The gentleman, supposing too much charged, refused to pay the amount, but agreed to a proposal of the barber, to pay at the rate of £200 an acre! The premises were accordingly measured, and the result was, that the shaving bill was increased to £78 9s 9d.

GROWTH OF MADISON.—We learn that we were in error yesterday in regard to our statement of the amount of building going on. There are about 60 dwelling houses in progress of construction, the average cost of which each is from $1,000 to $1,500. A number of them will be very handsome edifices and an ornament to the town. Others will be commenced as soon as materials can be furnished. There is a good demand for laborers and mechanics of all kinds.—Democrat.

FIRE.—The dwelling house of Mr. P. Calvert, on the Head of Platte was destroyed by fire, last week, together with all its contents. The house was new and not insured. The loss is about $1000.—Platteville American.

TO A BIRD IN CHURCH.

[PALM SUNDAY.]

What seek'st thou, forlorn, bewildered bird?
Beneath this temple's roof, what seek'st thou?
No living foliage invites thee here,
Nor pendant bough;
Nor sparkling stream that leaps among the stones,
Then stops to mirror heaven on its breast;
Nor seeds wind-scattered—nor the down and moss
To build thy nest.

Perhaps the storm without hath frighted thee!
The drifting of yon gloomy mass of cloud,
With horrid threads of fire, and deafening peals
Of thunder loud.

So in thou flest to where, before her Son,
The Virgin Mother kneels, most fair to see;
Her garments blue and white—emblems of truth
And purity.

And higher still, to where th' Almighty Dove
For ever blessed—spreads his azure wings;
Tunest thy simple pipe—then overcome
With splendor—clings

Trembling and panting, where the orient light
Filtered thro' panes of crimson, blue and gold,
Streams in and all around in many a bright
And dazzling fold,

Too bright for thee who with grey nature dwells;
And for relief thine eye is cast below,
Upon the purple-mottled crucifix—
Our weal, or woe.

On that thou lightest, but alas! for thee:
Earth holds a curse; and peace is short-lived here
Even for a guileless bird; for cunning strength
Hath taught thee fear.

And tho' from swinging censer there ascend
Volumes of incense as the palms are blest'd,
The fresh green branches to thy wearied wings
Can give no rest.

Yet while the blackness gathers round about
Stay thou! wait till the heavy portals ope
Upon the smiling sky that lies beyond—

VOLUME X. MILWAUKEE DAILY SENTINEL. NEW SERIES.

Milwaukee Daily Sentinel.

CIRCUIT COURT---May Term.

JUDGE HUBBELL PRESIDING.

TUESDAY, May 9th.

Sam'l S. Bigelow vs. B B. Cary et al—attachment verdict for plff $262.32.

John W. Dwight vs Daniel H. Richards et al—continued on the term.

Henry Gottschick vs S. J. Lamberton—Receivers Inventory, and account filed, and order discharging Receiver and vacating bond

Cyrus Curtis vs. Wm. Price et al—order of publication

Wm. H. Ryan vs Richard G. Owens, Garnishee of John Davis—attachment, Jury empanelled and cause proceeding.

POLICE COURT, MAY 9th.

BEFORE SIMEON WORTHINGTON, ESQ., POLICE JUSTICE.

A complaint was lodged and a warrant issued against Henry Stephenson charging him with an assault and battery upon Christian Penzien on the 5th of May.

The case in which the jury disagreed on Monday between Hopkins and Hebbard, was settled this morning, each party paying half the costs, and abandoning further litigation.

NEW ARRIVAL.—A staunch, good looking boat, the Amazon, has been in the river for a day or two past, loading with produce for Buffalo. We are informed by our fellow citizen Wm. H. Hibbard, that this same vessel, seventeen years ago, brought aboard from Port Huron, Canada, a cargo of lumber for him, at $10 per M. freight. The cargo was discharged into scows in the bay and there brought ashore. The vessel took on sand for ballast, and returned down the river. She has been to built three times we believe and it is probable that there is not much of the original timber remaining. Could the old timbers speak, they would express some amazement at the change in these parts. Something else besides sand for cargo now! But then lumber from Port Huron is brought around for $1 per M. instead of $10.

Holes in the Streets.

We are requested to call attention to the numerous holes and gulleys in the principal streets in our city. We had become tired of noticing, since the hills or the undulations in our thoroughfares do good seeming to accrue from the notices. But we are met at nearly every corner of the streets with "why don't you call the attention of the Aldermen to this," &c, &c.! We have reported frequently that they were out of bearing, or they seemed to require a "louder call" than we can utter. True, some of the Aldermen have recently requested the owners of property to collect in heaps the germinating seeds of disease and death, now spread on the streets and in stagnant pools in their gutters; but, there was perhaps some feature in the call, not in accordance with the rules of etiquette, as no attention has been paid to it. The next great evil, and one which will yet vex the city, if neglected, more than sufficient to have repaired all the streets in town; are the numerous holes &c, in streets that are continually being travelled. In E. Water Street we will venture to assert, there are more holes and gulleys than in any ten miles of road between here and Portage City, and we frequently hear teamsters say, that their horses have to draw harder in East Water Street, while their waggons are more tried, than any other place between Portage and here. A short time ago a bill was presented, and is now pending before the Council, of several hundred dollars, for damages done to a carriage, in getting into one of the holes, so abundant in the city. The bill alluded to will have to be paid by the tax-payers of the City; ten dollars, or even five, in repairing the street, would have prevented the payment now of hundreds. When shall the streets be cleaned and repaired, or at least made safe for vehicles to travel, without being broken down, and the city have to pay the damages?

NEW SALOON.—This is the new name of the Saloon and Refectory formerly known as the Chevalier's Retreat, on Huron St., over the American Express Co's office.

It was opened yesterday by Russel Wheeler, who extended a general invitation to all. Whatever may be the condition of the Territory of Nebraska, the Nebraska Saloon, was free yesterday to a large number of squatters, and provisions plenty. It has been fitted up with a good deal of taste, and no little expense. Lunch will be regularly served up every forenoon.

CHILD FOUND.—A child about five years of age was found by the City Marshal, on Monday night about nine o'clock. The boy, who speaks German and English, and who says his name is Jimmy but has no father, and doesn't know where the mother lives—was taken home to the Marshal's house, where he can be found.

DESERTION.—A boat was brought to the house of the city marshal, about one o'clock on Tuesday morning, by Mr. Joel Eneeland, and a private watchman. They, on passing, saw a light in a barn occupied by Mr. Martin, opposite the Fountain House, and watched. In a few minutes the light was extinguished, and in a few minutes again lighted, they then went in and took a man whom they found there to the house of the Marshal, who took him to jail. We understand the man claims to have been a boarder at Martin's, and that he was out to late too get into the house and went to the barn to sleep till morning.

ARRIVED.—The fine propeller Milwaukee, Capt Edwards, which left this port April 19th for Buffalo, arrived yesterday afternoon, having made the first round trip in return. She brings a very large load of merchandize, consigned to Doane & Co. The Milwaukee was also the first vessel at Buffalo from the upper lakes.

SURRENDERING THE BAIL.—We learn that an affidavit was made yesterday to surrender Mr. S. M. Booth to the custody of Dep. U. S. Marshal Cotton, as his bail, Dr. E. Wunderley. It seems that Mr. Cotton suggested that it would be more convenient to all parties that the matter should be deferred till the U. S. District Attorney, Mr. Sharpstein, and the U. S. Marshal, Mr. Ableman, returned to the city. The matter was deferred till that time, when the surrender will be made. The intention then is, as we understand it, to obtain a writ of habeas corpus, and bring the matter before Judge Smith, of the Supreme Court, to test the constitutionality of the Fugitive Slave Law, and determine whether the proceedings, previously had, have been legal or not, from the beginning.

NEW BRIDGE ACROSS THE MENOMONEE.—The parties interested call loudly for a new Bridge across the Menomonee at the Rail Road Depot. The amount of drayage and teaming done in that quarter of the city, is very large and constantly increasing. The present Bridge is both unsightly and unsafe. Let us have a new and good one in its place.

The steamer Sultana, Capt. Appleby, arrived here from Buffalo, yesterday afternoon, with 250 passengers and a very large load of freight. She leaves here again, on her return to Buffalo, Thursday afternoon.

MILWAUKEE HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY.—A special meeting of the Horticultural Society will be held at Mr. Bishop's Seed store, on Wisconsin St., on Saturday afternoon of this week, at 2½ o'clock to take into consideration the time and preparations for the first exhibition of this year. It is hoped there will be a full and prompt attendance.

SALE OF REAL ESTATE.—We hear of a sale yesterday, of Lots 10, 11 and 12 in Block 98 Solgard, corner of Cass and Wisconsin Streets, by Wadsworth & Perrine, owner, for $6000.

The new and fine Propeller Sun, Capt. Anderson, with 60 tons merchandize for this port, arrived here last evening about half past 6 o'clock. The Propeller Milwaukee also arrived yesterday, with a full cargo of goods for merchants here and in the interior.

The Steamer Arctic, Capt. Butlin, resumed her place in the line between this city and Chicago, yesterday; arriving here at an early hour of the afternoon with 100 passengers and 15 tons freight. She returns this morning.

GROWING WEATHER.—The warm sun and southerly breeze, yesterday, following close upon the timely showers of Monday night, have given a fresh start in vegetation. The country is rapidly putting on its Spring fashions in all their glory.

The Nebraska Bill---The Struggle Coming.

It will be remembered that one of our Washington despatches last week, announced that Col. Richardson, of Illinois, had given notice in the House of Representatives, that he should this week "move on the Nebraska bill." The following letter from Mr. Wentworth, M. C. to his paper the Chicago Democrat gives further information relative to the intention of the advocates of the iniquity, and the probability of their success:

WASHINGTON, May 2, 1854.

To-day Col. Richardson gave the House notice that next week he should move to take up the Nebraska bill, and should resort to all fair parliamentary means to accomplish his purposes.—The precise means he did not tell; but, when questioned, he said the House would know at the proper time. The contest will be in the Committee of the whole, and so there will be no ayes and noes, and no record. It will be purely one of tactics, where all the influence of the organization of the House and the great mass of the experience of the House will be on one side. As it is doubtful which side has a majority, one of the strongest qualities is anticipated that ever took place on the floor of the House of Representatives. If there is force enough to take up the bill, there will be to pass the bill.

Some Northern Democrats say they cannot vote for the bill with the Anti-Foreigner clause embraced, whilst the great mass of southern men of all parties, declare that they will not vote for the bill if that be stricken on. Southern politicians are getting to be just about as much afraid of the great rush of foreign laborers to this country as they are of the Wilmot Proviso.

I am inclined to think that the bill will be beaten or passed just exactly as it is. There seems to be an understanding among its friends that it shall not be amended.

Members have already begun to count noses for the contest. Illinois has six for and three against the Bill. But it is to be regretted that three of our delegation are now absent. It is understood that Mr. Willis Allen, and Mr. Yates have paired off. If this be so, then there will be no harm grow out of the absence of these two. It is understood that Mr. Norton, who has gone home, did not pair off, a very hazardous experiment when one lives so far from the Capital. Mr. Norton has been telegraphed and his constituents ought to see that he leaves home at once for this place.

On the Nebraska bill as it is, Iowa stands one for and one against. Wisconsin none for and three against. Michigan stands two and two—Indiana stands five and five. Every "Hard" in New York will appose the bill. Every "Barn Burner" will oppose the bill. The Softs, being four out of the entire delegation, are reckoned as favoring the bill.

It will be seen by a Washington despatch that the struggle has already commenced.

The Nebraska Bill Up!

Washington, May 8.

House—The Speaker laid before the House a statement of the Secretary of the Treasury in reply to a resolution as to the amount of stocks and other Government securities redeemed since March, 1854. The whole amount redeemed since that date is $18,813,714,75—premiums paid on the same $2,857,912,95, leaving outstanding liabilities $60,315,672,52 on the fourth.

The House has reached the Nebraska bill after laying aside 17 bills that had precedence. A vote was taken on each bill, yeas about 100, nays 20 or 30.

When the Nebraska bill came along, the House was the scene of not little tumult. Members were on their feet and clapping of hands in all parts of the Hall. A motion to lay it on the table was defeated by a vote of 105 to 86; Gerrit Smith of New York and Breckenridge of Kentucky were appointed tellers.

Some of the members who were opposed to the bill now vote to take it up.

A motion will be made by Mr. Jones of Tenn. to substitute a bill for Douglas,' not containing the clause for the repeal of the Missouri Compromise.

DETROIT LADIES.—Our friends abroad may, perhaps, be surprised to learn that a large proportion of our ladies smoke their own boots. When visiting a lady of the ton, it is a very common thing to find her busy with last, awl, waxends, pincers, and all the et cetera that compose the fit of the boot-maker. So skillfully do the delicate hands execute their work, that it rivals in elegance and neatness the shoes which are purchased at the stores.—Two or three pairs of boots can be made in a day, and, though about two dollars are husbanded on each pair, the avocation is resorted to by many of the affluent merely from a sense of duty which they owe to their sovereign, Fashion. The result of this useful employment is that the fair sex of Detroit will soon be proverbial for wearing the most elegant boots, and having the prettiest of feet in the Union. The ladies of New York and Boston, and other eastern cities, must look to their laurels.—Detroit Daily Advertiser.

WATERTOWN RAILROAD.

On Thursday last we had an opportunity of seeing many of the old residents of Milwaukee, in attendance at the meeting of the Board of Directors of the Milwaukee and Watertown Rail-road Company.

The chief business of the Board was the location of the Depot Grounds in the city. The citizens on the westside of the river were unceedingly anxious that a portion, at least, of the business of the railroad should be done on their side of the river. With commendable zeal and liberality, they had taken the necessary steps to secure lands proper for depot purposes, and made a tender of them to the Company. The lands lie near the geographical center of the city, a short distance west of the place where the State Fair was held, last fall, and it is probably the best point in the city for the location of a depot.

After a survey of the premises and canvassing the merits of the proposition the Directors passed a resolution establishing the Freight Depot upon the grounds above alluded to. The Passenger Depot is located upon the east side, for a certain number of years.

We have been favored with a statement that this depot question would open anew the local difficulties between the east and west sides of the river, but the course adopted by the Company will probably prove satisfactory to the whole city.

By a notice in our paper to-day it will be seen that the Company are ready to let the contract for building the bridge across the river in this city.—They have also ordered the letting of contracts for the construction of the road from to Columbus, of which notice will be given in due time.

We are informed by Engineer Brandhead, that the laying of the rails will be commenced on Monday next, and pushed ahead as fast as possible. Several hundred tons of iron are now in Milwaukee and sufficient on the way to finish the road to this city. We are given to understand also, that the design is to have the cars running to this city by the first of September next, in little over three months. We hope to see it accomplished, as the produce business is this fall will be heavier than ever, and we anxious to see our neighboring farmers bring in their grain, take the money, purchase the goods they require, in our city, instead of passing by us to Milwaukee, on the plank road.

Great credit is due the Directors for the energy displayed in carrying the road along under the discouraging circumstances which have surrounded them for the past few months.

THE DROUTH.—If we were disposed to give credence to the croakings of Millerites we would be led to conclude that the last day fixed for the destruction of the world would be the most propitious, as the earth is dry enough to burn without shavings to start it. That venerable individual, the oldest inhabitant, cannot recollect the time when it was so dry. To this may be added another misfortune—frost have killed springwheat and oats, and farmers say that unless they are revived by rain soon these crops must perish. At this writing there are symptoms of a shower—but all signs fail in a dry time.—Platteville Amer.

Mr. Holford, who recently died in London, after willing the entire of his property to the Prince of Wales, is said to have held bonds and mortgages in the city of New York, to the amount of over two millions of dollars. If the reported will is true, the heir to the throne of England is now a large holder of American securities. He might hold less welcome commodities.—Evening Journal.

BROTHER SHAFT.—The Fashion, Capt. Newberry, came in this morning from Green Bay having worked her way up from Kewaunee with one wheel, having broken her starboard shaft when off that place. This will oblige her to lay up for a week or ten days here. A new shaft has been already ordered at Detroit.—Chicago Democrat, yesterday.

OUR WHEAT CROP!—A FAILURE!—The warm showery and delightful weather of the past two weeks, has worked a wonderful change in the appearance of the wheat crop in this country.—The farmers declare if such a state of things continue their crops will average but a very little above forty bushels to the acre. Let us hope, however, for the best.—Sauk Co. Standard.

MORE LIGHT.—If whales have tears let them prepare to shed them now. A Gas Light Company was organized at Nantucket on Wednesday last. In New Bedford, we believe, there are two.—Boston, Daily Ads.

MILWAUKEE PRINTERS'

FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY.

Office 185 East Water Street.

Capital over $165,000—in Cash and Premium Notes.

THIS Company offers unrivalled facilities for the insurance of Buildings and Personal Property against fire. The advantages offered, are security beyond the reach of extraordinary casualties, as the real estate insured is by law bound for the assessment made to cover losses beyond the power of evasion. Every person insured is a member of the Company, and entitled to one vote. The cost of insurance does not exceed one-third as much as in Stock Companies, saying nothing of the increased security and the incomparable ease with which losses are settled. During the last five years, this Company have issued 2000 Policies, and made but three assessments at a cost to the property insured, not exceeding two mills on the dollar. Its business is principally confined to this State.

THE BUFFALO EAGLE IRON WORKS CO.

Propose to pay Particular attention to Architectural Iron Work.

WE are prepared to Manufacture IRON FRONTS for Stores and Public Buildings, with the Patent Fire Proof Rolling Shutters.

These Shutters are the same that are now so generally used in New York, and may be put in any Window, Small or Large, and if arranged before erection of the building, may be used without in the least affecting the style of Architecture. They make the only perfect Fire Proof Shutters, and do not appear to the eye when rolled up.

When ordered we will furnish the Plain Iron Fronts, (with or without the Patent Shutter,) with estimate for the Cost of the work finished ready for delivery. To our Western friends we think this arrangement will be desirable, for they thus are enabled to save the whole experiment what the Front is to be, and what it is to cost.

When the Patent Shutters are used we will furnish a man to superintend the erection of the Iron Front and the setting of the Shutters. J. E. FOLLETT, Sec. ratory.

ALBANY, July. 27, 1852.

This is to certify, that on the 22d day of May, 1852, our entire Stock, composed of Turpentine, Alcohol, Oil, Patent Medicines, &c., was consumed by fire; so rapid and severe was the fire that we were unable to close one safe until Mr. Pohlman subsequently entered at the peril of his life and closed the doors.

After forcing the safe open after all this exposure and fire, which rendered it powerful for the safety of its contents, its valuables were found uninjured.

We have so much confidence in the security of the Fire King, that we shall have it immediately replaced.

PATENT MEDICINES.

Caution!

To Those Who Use Spirituous Liquors Either as a Beverage or Medicine!

WOLFE'S

Schiedam Aromatic Schnapps.

THE ABOVE NAMED PREPARATION has become extensively known throughout the length and breadth of the United States and is universally admitted to be the most delightful, healthful, invigorating, and pure preparation of the Juniper berry, that science and a long practice in its distillation and preparation of pure liquors have ever succeeded in producing.

A long established manufacturer and importer of liquors of every description, the undersigned devoted himself to the production of an article of pure gin, which should prove a valuable agent in the cure of the manifold diseases which afflict the human race, and for which Holland gin has been prescribed by the medical faculty for years. At length his efforts were crowned with success, at his extensive distillery in Schiedam, Holland, from which place the purest gin has long been imported, and he was enabled to give to the world his Schnapps, which, for purity and entire freedom from the pernicious fusel oil and all other noxious ingredients, and delightful aromatic flavor, has never been equalled, and cannot be excelled.

In order to protect himself from pecuniary loss at the hands of cheats, imposters, and thieves, who would unquestionably attempt to palm off a vile and spurious article upon the unsuspecting community, and, like the wolf in sheep's clothing, prey upon their very vitals, he resorted to the expedient of importing and selling his Schnapps only in pint and quart bottles.

These bottles are of glass, stamped with the name of the manufacturer; are corked and sealed, and have printed labels bearing the signature of Wolfe upon the cork. They are enclosed in colored wrappers, also bearing his signature, to which form alone they can be obtained in cases, containing two dozen bottles each.

Notwithstanding these safeguards, unprincipled parties have been found guilty of the unwarrantable and criminal practice of buying up empty bottles, filling them with the common gin, which is the most pernicious poison with which a community was ever cursed, and sends thousands to a wretched drunkard's grave yearly.

It is only necessary, therefore, for those who purchase the article by retail, or drink it at public places, to mark well the appearance of the bottles from which they drink. Caution is necessary.

The Schnapps have been introduced but about two years but in that brief time their virtues have been acknowledged to an almost incredible extent, until it is a matter of some difficulty to keep up a supply adequate to the demand, so fast are orders pouring in from every State and Territory in the Union, from Maine to Oregon and California.

Determined that the virtues of the Schnapps should be thoroughly substantiated by the most undeniable and unquestionable testimonials, dollars were dispatched to every regular member of the medical faculty, and professional chemist whose name could be obtained, soliciting their acceptance of a bottle of the Schnapps, with a view of enabling them to test its medicinal properties in their practice, and submit it to the strictest chemical analysis in their laboratories.

Of the ten thousand physicians and chemists in the United States about four thousand accepted the offer. Upwards of two thousand have promptly furnished their written endorsement that the article is all that is claimed for it, and is the strongest, purest, most delightful, its general use, not only as a remedial agent, but a delightful, harmless, and pleasant beverage. These voluntary endorsements are from gentlemen of unquestionable knowledge and the most perfect reliance.

Nor alone have practitioners and chemists furnished their testimonials. The public press, in almost every principal city and town, has spoken boldly in its favor in its editorial columns.

The New York Medical Gazette and Journal of Health, high authority, has repeatedly proclaimed its excellency. In the July number of that journal, Dr. Reese, its accomplished editor, has published a discussion upon the subject of the use of alcoholic mixtures, medicinally, in his widely circulating columns, and the views of the medical faculty in reference to my Schnapps in particular, giving an endorsement that they should be spread before the public. Physicians, therefore, who have not already complied with my request to forward me their opinion as to its qualities, will oblige me by doing so through the editor of the Medical Gazette.

Were it necessary to do more than simply state this fact which he who runs may read, this advertisement could be drawn out to the length of a column, by publication of the authorities, all on file at the ware-rooms of the proprietor, in New York.

It is not only as a remedial agent that the Schnapps are to be recommended, but as a gentle and perfectly harmless stimulus, which cannot be otherwise but healthful and invigorating, and may be indulged in with impunity by those of temperate habits, without the slightest fear of the baneful, painful, and horrible consequences of intoxication—that vice which desolates the social hearth, entails misery upon countless thousands, fills our hospitals, almshouses, and prisons, and even furnishes the gallows with its deadly fruit.

In countries where pure wines and liquors can be had readily, and for a mere trifle, they are freely used by all classes, and drunkenness is hardly known—but the vile trash which the complet of the immortal poet so aptly applies:

"A monster of such hideous mien,
That to be hated, needs but to be seen."

Were Wolfe's Schiedam Aromatic Schnapps to be drank in preference to all other distilled or fermented liquors, our temperance societies would have less arduous labor to perform, and Horace Greely, Gough, Barnum, and the orator Ingersoll, eloquent, and talented friends of total abstinence, would rarely be called on to ascend the rostrum, and cause thousands to listen with "an attent ear" to the great and startling truths they reiterate with such powerful and impassioned eloquence. There need be no Maine law to suppress intemperance.

As long as men and women will persist in drinking drugged, adulterated, poisoned liquors, in which the country is flooded, drunkenness and all its concomitant evils must exist. We may w. l exclaim with Cassio—

"Oh, that a man will put an enemy into his mouth To steal away his brains!"

In many districts of this country, particularly in the region of the great western and southern rivers, the character of their waters is such as to produce great disorganization of the system, and frequently chronic affections of an incurable character, the enumeration and specification of which would be a matter of supererogation to all those who use the Bitters specified. When qualified with the Schnapps, the baneful miasma is neutralized or destroyed, a fact has become known at the South and West, and the Schnapps are used to the extent of thousands of bottles daily. Their great recommendation is their undeniable and well established purity, which can be proved by chemical analyzation of the contents of any
